

XTech Gear provides telecommunications and data networking equipment to all manner of companies, from telephone carriers and large enterprises to small and medium sized businesses. We supply the equipment that enables your network to grow and function.

Proven Manufacturers

We provide quality refurbished equipment from proven manufacturers, such as Alcatel-Lucent, Cisco, Tellabs, Flashwave Systems, Nortel, and many others. These manufacturers are at the forefront of networking technology, and both carriers and businesses have depended on them for decades due to their functionality, effectiveness, and reliability.

Assured Quality

We have our own in house testing and repair facility staffed with knowledgeable electrical and network engineers. Our technicians have worked in various positions installing, maintaining, and repairing communications equipment throughout the industry and have a wide range of knowledge of both the equipment and its implementation. All of our equipment is tested in its operational environment and inspected prior to shipping to you.

Complete Equipment Life Cycle

We are capable of providing assistance with any aspect of your network's life cycle: New project procurement, active life maintenance and replacement, and decommissioned equipment asset recovery. XTech Gear has the expertise necessary to enable you to attain the maximum return on investment from your communications equipment.